

POLITÉCNICA

Greetings from MADRID!

The Universidad Politécnica de Madrid (UPM) is pleased to announce its 18th International Staff Week, which will be held from 1 to 5 July 2024 in Madrid.

We welcome teaching and non-teaching staff working within the Erasmus+ framework and other programmes to learn about UPM activities and services, meet with UPM departmental coordinators, visit different schools and facilities, build upon relations with our partners as part of our commitment to the EELISA Alliance and much more...

The working language will be English, although participants will also get the chance to experience Spanish language and culture. Participants will also have occasion to share their experiences with other colleagues and representatives from other partner institutions.

Participants will not be charged a registration fee.

Please note that we may be obliged to restrict the number of participants. Depending on the total number of applicants, we will accept a maximum of two representatives from each institution.

We look forward to meeting you in Madrid.
